WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1876.

STEALING IN NEVADA.

Unfortunately all men are not honest. But as a general rule the State and county officers of Nevada in point of honesty are far above the average. Eureka county is the exception now. At Eureka on the 30th ult., M. Borowsky, ex-Public Administrator, was convicted of misdemeanor, the penalty of which is a fine of $2,000, with the alternative of something over three years in the County Jail. It appears that while officiating as Public Administrator he appropriated funds belonging to the estates of deceased persons, amounting to $2,100. The Sentinel says "the greatest share of the money used, say about $2,000, belonged to the estate of Dr. Hamilton, who, it will be remembered, kept a drug store next door to the old stand of Geo. Thacher & Co., on Main street, where he died. The life of Dr. Hamilton was insured for $3,000, which was paid by the Insurance Company to Public Administor Borowsky. Dr. Hamilton has a wife and daughter somewhere in the East, whom we hear are in destitute circumstances. Their case, considering that the Doctor had taken the precaution to have his life insured for their behoof, is a particularly sad one. The fine, whatever amount may be imposed by Judge Cole, goes to the State of Nevada and not to the heirs. The official bond of the ex-Public Administrator, by some omission or oversight of the District Attorney at the time it was filed, is not worth the paper on which it is written. Mr. Borowsky was ordered to appear next Monday for sentence."

UNPARALLELED BULLION YIELD.

It is unfortunate, remarks the San Francisco Bulletin, that the measures for ascertaining the amount of gold and silver produced in the United States are not more perfect. There is a Mining Bureau, and an officer detailed by the Government to superintend the gathering of statistics. It is notorious, however, that the figures are in some cases approximate guesses, rather than accurate returns. Evidence of this is apparent in the compilations from different sources. Professor Raymond and Director Linderman, both Government officers, differ materially in the details of their statements of bullion production for 1874, while the compilation of John J. Valentine, Superintendent of the Bullion Department of Wells, Fargo & Co,'s Express, shows still further variations. The last named gentleman has made up an annual statement of the bullion handled by the Express Company for a number of years, which is generally regarded as approximately correct, though of course there are great dangers from duplications of returns from the various sub-agents. The gross amount reported for the year compares as follows with previous years:

Bullion yield for 1874	$72,238,700
Bullion yield for 1874	74,401,100
Bullion yield for 1875	80,889,000

The increase is probably correct, and will be still larger next year.

THE highest point in the world where railroads are now in operation is said to be at Apizaco, on the Vera Cruz and City of Mexico Railway, the precise hight of which, above the level of the sea, is 7,478 feet. The next highest is on the Central Pacific line, in the Sierra Nevada range, 7,111 feet above the level of the sea. The third is at Arequipa, Peru, some 7,000 feet above sea level, and, under the Peruvian railway system, the work is to be continued until it reaches double that altitude—namely the ancient capital of Cuzco.

THE news from Washington is to the import that Colonel Scott has but little prospect of obtaining a subsidy from the General Government for the Texas-Pacific Railroad. It is the impression that the land grants already conceded are amply sufficient to secure the road within the next few years.

U. S. COURTS IN NEVADA.

There has been two bills introduced in Congress affecting the U. S. Courts in Nevada. One by Sargent in the Senate in his old bill of last session to change the time of holding court in the Ninth District, but the other, by Woodburn in the House, provides for holding all terms in Nevada in Virginia City instead of Carson. This bill goes hand in hand with Woodburn's other bill, which will be introduced on the next call of States, to provide for the erection of a public building in Virginia to accommodate the U. S. Courts, Post office and revenue officers. The change of place from Carson to Virginia is requested by the entire bar, and by Judges Field and Sawyer also, and the bill will doubtless go through at an early day. The Carsonites will of course rave and tear their hair, as is their custom on such occasions, but the good of the State, the convenience of the bar and Judges, and, in fact, all the proprieties demand it. All that has been said above has been taken from the Washington correspondent of the Virginia Chronicle.

IT is said that the San Francisco Ministerial Union has voted to invite Moody and Sankey, the great evangelical revivalists, to visit the Pacific coast at their earliest convenience. The sooner the better, says the Gold Hill News. In San Francisco they can find numerous good subjects to work upon, as for instance Losse, who kicked and stamped his wife to death on Christmas day. Such cowardly dogs are always easily converted when the gallows is in sight. He will be willing to have the devil cast out of him then and be sent up among the angels, while his poor wife, who was never converted, except into a corpse by himself, is not supposed to be entitled to join him there. Success to you Moody and Sankey among the hoodlums, child-beaters and wife-killers of San Francisco. But if you fail, vacate immediately in favor of the Vigilance Committee.

ANTIDOTE FOR POISON.—We find the following commended: If a person swallows any poison whatever, or has fallen into convulsions from having overloaded the stomach, an instantaneous remedy, more efficient and applicable in a larger number of cases than any half dozen medicines we can think of, is a heaping teaspoonfull of common salt, and as much ground mustard, stirred rapidly in a teacup of water, warm and cold, and swallowed instantly. It is scarcely down before it begins to come up, bringing with it the remaining contents of the stomach, and lest there be any remnant of poison, however small, let the white of an egg, or a teacup of strong coffee, be swallowed as soon as the stomach is quiet; because these very common articles nullify a larger number of virulent poisons than any medicines in the shops.

THE Scientific American has an article on powerful explosives, in which nitro glycerine is rated as the most dangerous, gunpowder next, such preparations of nitro-glycerine as dynamite third and gun cotton last. The mixtures of nitro glycerine and sawdust or earth may be safely transported when first made, but soon becomes hazardous. A method of making pulp compressed gun cotton, invented by Professor Abel of England, has been adopted by the German, English and French Governments The material is saturated with water and compressed into cylinders of various sizes. In that condition it can only be exploded by experts provided with the proper appliances. Fire, heat or friction will not affect it.

VALMASEDA has retired from Cuba thus confessing his inability to cope with the insurgents. He, like many another ferocious tyrant, finds out that brutal cruelty serves to engender such a spirit of determined resistance as will surely defeat those who have recourse to such barbarous expedients.

THE San Francisco Stock and Exchange Board on New Year's Eve donated $250 to each of the following institutions: Catholic Orphan Asylum, Protestant Orphan Asylum, Pacific Hebrew Benevolent Society, Old Lady's Home, Boys' and Girls' Aid Society.

ARTIFICIAL GRINDSTONES.—One of the newest articles produced in Germany is an artificial grindstone. The grindstones are made at the City of Worms, of grit, soluble glass and petroleum. The proportions are not given by the journal to which we are indebted for information concerning their fabrication. It is said they are so firm as to endure a very high speed without becoming soft.

NEW USES FOR BORAX.

Important for California and Nevada.

A correspondent to San Francisco Alta from Birmingham, Eng., dated December 11th, tells the following:

On my first visit to the borax land in your beautiful country, you kindly inserted several letters in your valuable paper in reference to some new uses to which borax might be applied; but since that time great progress has been made. I visited the Borax Lake, in the Slate Range Mountains this year, and collected a great many specimens from this singular deposit, and have had very large quantities of the native borax (from the under-surface) and concentrated borax both from Nevada and California, under my control. Since my return to England I have made a special study to find out any new application to which borax could be applied, and the result is perfectly astounding. The various deposits of borate of soda that are to be met with on the Pacific Slope are destined to play a most important part in the welfare, comfort and benefit of the world at large. The virtues of borax are not yet know to many scientific men in Europe and America; but when the uses of borax can be understood by the great mass of the people, a much more extended consumption will be the result.

California and Nevada are and will be indebted to Professor Schnetzler, of Lausanne, and Monsieur Dumas, of the Academie des Sciences, of Paris. These gentlemen have given publicity to various new uses which borax may be put to, and from hints they have given and the experiments I have made, I am now fully convinced that borax will be one of the leading articles of commerce in the States of California and Nevada. The great use of it has been in the manufacture of the glaze on earthenware, but in future it will be used for a thousand purposes—one of the most important will be the washing of linen, calicoes, flannels, and all woolen goods, etc. I have had it tried and thoroughly tested in various work houses, hospitals, prisons, and other public institutions in this country and in all cases the reports are most favorable. Two ounces boiled in twelve gallons of water for washing, will make the clothes cleaner and whiter than soda or washing powders, and does not injure or rot the material; the colors in prints are not the least affected when washed with borax; it saves half the soap, and best of all, it does not hurt the washerwoman's hands, but heals any sores. [We have no Chinamen in England to do the washing, as you have in California.] Two ounces of it boiled in a pint of water (all solutions of it should be boiled) cleans marble, removes the stains and dirt, and is most useful for cleaning paint without removing it; or cleaning type, jewelry, plate glass windows, taking stains out of decanters, and for making vegetables beautifully tender and green. A small quantity put into the tea-kettle extracts the strength and improves the flavor; mixed with a little camphor, makes a splendid hair wash; put into the water that barbers use makes shaving easy; makes bad water good for drinking purposes; removes stains from the hands, kills bugs and destroys the fungus that is so injurious to the vines, and kills the spawn of frogs and other small fry; a small quantity put into milk prevents it going sour, kept air-tight, it will retain the scent of new milk for months. I have boiled two ounces of borax in a pint of water, placed grapes in the solution when cold; the color is perfect and the grapes are preserved; but the flavor is not equal to fresh gathered grapes.

Fruit can be preserved in a strong solution of borax, and meat will not putrify if covered with the dry powder. Some pork pickled with dry borax kept well for more than a month, but was not palatable

Two ounces of borax will go as far in washing or cleansing as a pound of soda. Borax placed in steam boilers prevents their becoming encrusted. It is used in England to repair millers' grinding stones, for enamelled watch and clock faces, in the manufacture of edged tools, in electro-plating by brazers, and by hatters in cleaning raw silk, in the fluxing of metals and enamelling of iron; and in India, for making fine steel. It will cure the toothache, preserve the teeth, cure sore throats, is good for rheumatics, makes a cooling drink in hot climates, prevents chilblains, and preserves the most delicate fruits from the Tropics. The people in high latitudes will be able to see pepper as it grows on the vines, nutmegs as they grow, with the mace and its outer covering, the doorian, the jack fruit, bread fruit, magosteen, the pod of the cocoa tree, coffee berries, cloves and other fruit. What will the people of this country think when they can see some of your large vegetables sent here in a strong solution of borax water—say a potato, of the same size as the one grown by Mr. Hill, of Pajaro Valley; or a pod of a bean seven feet long that was grown by Mr. Poultry, of Napa Valley; or a pumpkin of 350 pounds; a crooked-necked squash weighing 110 pounds; cabbage 56 pounds; onions, 4 pounds; rhubarb, 17 pounds; and all kinds of beautiful snakes, lizards, etc.? All these can be sent to this country immersed in a solution of borax, and at a very little cost, to be exhibited in our trade museums. Thousands of our poor people would be able to form some idea of what other countries produce. When these things can be examined by our artisans and poor people in our large towns, it will be the means of improving their minds, and set men thinking and keep them from attending worse places to find amusement. Borax should always be boiled.

At its next meeting the Cornelius Farmers' Club will discuss the question whether farming is more profitable than other pursuits.

The good ladies who have in charge the Orphans' Home at Salem have just fitted the little unfortunates with new suits and everything comfortable.

The Territories.

The Colorado Poultry and Pet Stock Association is in session at Denver.

The iron bridge which spans the North Platte at Fort Laramie has been completed.

A petition is in circulation at Beaver, Utah, for the location of a land office at that place.

Kelley, one of the alleged murderers of Peter Van Valkenburg, was captured in Utah last week.

A steamboat will shortly be launched on the Yellowstone river for the accommodation of the trade of Eastern Montana.

Edward Balbachs & Son have commenced an action in Utah Courts, against the Sheridan Hill Mining and Smelting Company and others to foreclose a mortgage given to secure the payment of $100,000.

APPROPRIATION.—Congressman Woodburn has framed a bill, says the Pioche Journal, asking for $200,000 to enlarge the Mint at Carson and $100,000 for the construction of a government building at Virginia City for a Post Office and the use of other Government officials. The Carson Tribune objects to the $100,000 item. Those Carson fellows have always wanted everything located at their place, and if they had not been so clamorous, they might have got more. The State Penitentiary is located at Reno; State University at Elko, and Carson folks can blame none but themselves for losing many things which they might have had, if they had been a little more modest.

A dreadful calamity occurred in Killiken, Switzerland, on Christmas day. The floor of a building in which a festival was being held gave way and eighty persons were killed and fifty wounded.

Reducing Refractory Ores.

The hydro-sulpho or caching process, for the reduction of silver ores, is becoming very popular in Lower California and Northern Mexico, where it has been lately introduced. The process is best adapted to ores abounding in sulphur. The rock is crushed dry, and only requires to be fine enough to pass through a screen of 20 to 30 meshes to the inch. It is then roasted in reverbatory furnaces with salt. The roasted ore is then placed in large tanks or tubs holding eight or ten tons, and a stream of clear water turned on until the ore is covered, and kept running five or six hours. The water is then run off and a cold solution of hypo sulphate of soda is pressed through the ore in the same manner, until it is ascertained by test that the hypo-sulphate solution carries no more silver. The precipitation of the silver now held in solution is accomplished by the addition to the hypo-sulphate solution of quick lime and sulphur, made by boiling in water two parts of lime to one of sulphur. This is done in the tanks by the aid of steam.

After precipitation and running off of the liquid, the silver remains in the form of sulphide. It is then put into canvas filters, and afterward dried, when it is roasted in reverberatory furnaces, to carry off the sulphur, and then melted into bars. When the operation is successfully performed—and any intelligent workman can comprehend it with a few days' experience—the bullion is taken out from 900 to 1,000 fine. There is no waste of material, the solution being pumped back into the tanks and used over again. The silver, by this process, is extracted to within three to four per cent. of the fire assay. In Mexico it has proved the cheapest method of treating rebellious silver ores; and it has this to recommend it; it is free to all who are inclined to use it.—Ex.

SHE MEANT BUSINESS.—They have some queer girls over in Colorado. One of them, who resides in the Cache la Poudre Valley, had been receiving the attentions of a young man for about a year, but becoming impatient at his failure to bring matters to a crisis, she resolved to ascertain his intentions. When he next called she took him gently by the ear, led him to a seat and said: "Nobby, you've bin foolin' 'round this claim for mighty near a year an' hev never yit shot off yer mouth on the marryin' biz. I've cottoned to yer on the square clean through an' hev stood off every other galoot thet hez tried to chip in; an' now I want yer to come down to business or leave the ranch. Ef yer on the marry an' want a pard thet'll stick to yo pass in yer checks an' the good Lord calls ye over the range, jist squeal an' we'll hitch; but ef that ain't yer game draw out an' give some other feller a show fur his pile. Now sing yer song or skip out." He sang.—Laramie Sun.

THIS will be a great year for this American nation. It is leap year, Presidential election year and the centennial anniversary of our independence, and for the purpose of giving us a rest during so much excitement there will be one extra Sunday, or fifty-three in all.

AN unbroken line of railway now extends from Mount Cenis to Reggis, opposite Messina, a distance of 1,830 miles. Passengers are ferried over between Scylla and Charybdis in an hour, and then proceed by rail to the southern extremity of Sicily.

Adjourned to first Monday in February.

BELCHER DIVIDEND.—It affords us a great deal of pleasure to inform our readers that the old Belcher has again placed herself on the dividend paying list of mines. A dividend of one dollar per share has been declared, payable immediately. We would like to see the time come when she will pay as of olden times, at the rate of ten dollars per share per month.

EXPECTED DAILY.—The Carson Tribune learns from the best authority, that Senator John P. Jones will certainly be among us before the end of the week, and so his constituents will have an opportunity of interviewing him before his departure for Washington.

DEATH OF JAMES ANTHONY.—James Anthony died suddenly of apoplexy in San Francisco yesterday morning. He was one of the proprietors of the old Sacramento Union.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Yesterday morning at about half past nine Edward F. Baldwin breathed his last at the Depot Hotel. He was sitting at the stove talking with some of his friends when he suddenly complained that he was choking, and without a struggle he fell over, dead. The evening previous he spent in this office and at that time spoke of a shortness of breath and drowsiness, but nothing was thought of it. The body was taken to the residence of Mrs. Mosher who regarded him almost as a son. He has a brother in Truckee and a mother somewhere East of here, both of whom have been telegraphed to. Ed. had been in the employ of the C. P. R. R. Co. for some four years past and is well known from Truckee to Winnemucca; he was a general favorite among his co-laborers, who feel his sudden death very keenly. He had but a short time before returned from the Railroad Hospital at Sacramento, where he had gone for treatment, being sick. It is thought that heart disease was what caused his sudden death. From an intimate personal acquaintance we can truthfully say that he was one of the most social, true-hearted young men we ever met—always ready with a witty remark. His good-natured repartees won him friends on every hand. His remains were taken to Truckee yesterday by Superintendent Free. Peace to his ashes.

WEEK OF PRAYER.—The observance of the first week of January as a week of prayer, has become very general among evangelical Christians, in accordance with this custom, union meetings are being held this week in Reno, and the topics for prayer and conference are those suggested by the Evangelical Alliance. The meeting to-night will be at the Congregational Church, commencing at 7 o'clock, Rev. G. W Fitch officiating

CITY LIKE.—The gas in Barnett & Bro.'s store has proved such a success that the merchants along the street down to Morris Ash's, will introduce it into their buildings this week. In a few days that part of our town will be brilliantly lighted at night, and it will add much to the attractiveness of the stores. We admire enterprise, and if we can not have the genuine coal gas, we say let's have the new kind, which beats coal oil all to pieces.

AT LAST.—The passenger train, bound West, which should have arrived at 11:40 Monday night, put in an appearance at about 7¼ o'clock last evening. The passengers had a rather wearisome time of it, but when the elements commence to "buck," what can a little steam engine do? No conundrum. No. 8, freight, went west at its usual hour yesterday.

SNOW PLOW.—The Central Pacific snow plow appeared in Reno yesterday. It found the snow so deep between here and Verdi that it continued its journey on down. It went up just ahead of the belated passenger train, so as to ensure no further delays.

LEASED.—James Burke has leased his store to H. H. Beck for three years, possession to be given on the first of next month. Mr. Beck has done a wise thing in coming to Reno to engage in business. He is a live business man, and will do well here

FRANK FREE, Superintendent of the Truckee Division of the Central Pacific, passed through town yesterday, on his way to Truckee. He came up to look after the remains of Ed. F. Baldwin personally.

LET all those who participated in the Fairy Drama, which was presented some years ago, bear in mind the meeting at the Methodist Church to night. Come even if you can not take part again.

STOCKS.—The stock market is gradually stiffening up, and there is every prospect of a lively market. They can't go too high to suit us, no matter whether we have any or not.

BOUNTY.—In the bills allowed by the Board of Commissioners were a couple for bounties on lynx and some other pestiferous animal.

SUPREME COURT.—The January term of this Court commenced Monday at Carson. A full Bench was present.

LOOK at the ads headed "for sale," and if you are in need of hay or of a horse and dray, you will do well by calling immediately upon A.J.Clark.

Snow From the Mountains.

The Virginia Enterprise has the following concerning one of its peculiarities, arising from the snow on Mount Davidson:

Strangers sojourning in this city during the Winter are surprising to see the air full of snow when the sky is clear in every direction. They seem to witness the phenomenon of snow falling from the blue of the heavens. They presently discover that the mysterious fall of snow comes from the peak of Mount Davidson, which rises high above the town on the west. The prevailing winds are from the west, and these, when they are above the strength of a breeze, catch up the snow on the top side of the mountain, and wafting it along, presently allows it to sift down over the town. Last night although but a moderate breeze was abroad, there were times when for an hour the air was filled with fine particles of snow, which floated about so airily they were easily mistaken for little needles of frost. When a heavy gale is blowing after a recent fall of snow this sowing of its flakes is seen on a grand scale. Great whirlwinds form and are playing about in the eddy under the lea of the mountain, and the snow gathered and carried aloft is presently hurled down upon the town and whirled through the streets in blinding showers. Thus at times when the sky is perfectly clear more snow may be seen in the town than is often seen to fall directly from the clouds even during the heaviest of storms. When snow is both falling from the heavens and blowing from the mountains, it is then that we have wild and uncomfortable weather; it is then that you can reach out into the air and pick up snow by the handfuls as it is passing by. These falls of snow might be called aerial avalanches.

The Philosopher's Stone.

The eccentric, but brilliant, John Randolph, once rose suddenly up in his seat in the house of Representatives, and screamed our at the top of his shrill voice:

"Mr. Speaker! I have discovered the philosopher's stone. It is Pay as you go!"

John Randolph dropped many rich gems from his mouth, but never a richer one than that.

"Pay as you go," and you need not dodge sheriffs and constables.

"Pay as you go," and you can walk the streets with an erect back and a manly front, and you have no fear of those you meet. You can look at any man in the eye without flinching. You won't have to cross the high way to avoid a dun, or look intently into the shop windows to avoid seeing a creditor.

"Pay as you go," and you can snap your finger at the world, and when you laugh, it will be a hearty honest one. It seems to us sometimes, that we can almost tell the laugh of a poor debtor. He looks around as though he was in doubt whether the laugh was not the property of his creditors, and not included in articles "exempted from attachment." When he does succeed in getting out an abortion—he appears frightened, and looks as though he expected it would be pounced upon by a constable.

"Pay as you go," and you will meet smiling faces at home—happy cherry-cheeked smiling children—a contented wife—a cheerful hearth stone.

John Randolph was right. It is the philosopher's stone.

SOME facetious but malicious individual has started this "sporting" item about one of the Illinois Senators. The scene is laid down in Dixie during the war, when they were besieging Vicksburg, after it was discovered that spades not clubs, were the trumps that would take the town. Says the narrator: "The story goes that once in the game of poker General Logan held three jacks—jack of diamonds, jack of hearts and jack of clubs. After running the bets up to the limit and calling down the hands, Logan found that his opponent had four tens, when, with true military fertility of resources, Logan furtively took out of his pocket one of his own photographs and played it upon his unsuspecting opponent for the jack of spades, thereby holding four jacks and sweeping the board."

SANTA FE, the largest town in New Mexico, has a population of about five thousand people. About five-sixths of the inhabitants are natives and the balance Americans, Jews and Germans. The Jews carry on the largest business and control the trade. Three or four Mexican stores are the sole representatives in trade of the natives who are represented as being an indolent and unproductive class.

A WESTERN lady gives the following advice to the girls engaged in looking for husbands: "Look out for physical health and beauty for the sake of the race. Do not bestow a glance on the lean, dyspeptic, cadaverous biped; shun him as you would a pestilence."

WHEN the Boss's case comes to trial now it will be Tweed-le-dumb.
